GOLDEN 22 AGGIES 4

Student Life today chronicles the first defeat for the Aggies this season. Last Saturday Golden proved to be our superiors in football by the score of 22 to 4. It was a game that was teeming with the new style of foot-ball. Formations were called on each side, that extended from one side-line to the other. It was in this style of ball that the Aggies far excelled the Miners, but when Golden started the old style of plunging the line the Aggies were almost helpless to resist their attacks. Time after time Golden went through our line for big gains, but seldom did they net much around our ends.

Golden's first two scores were made on what might be called "flukes." The first score came as the result of a fumbled forward pass on the part of the Aggies. A Golden man got the ball and ran within ten yards of goal, requiring but just a few downs more to carry the ball over the line. The second score came on a blocked punt made by the Aggies. When a Mining man made another long gain which meant another score for them. These first two scores were made in the first half. It was in this half that the Aggies outplayed Golden, the game being played almost entirely in the Miners' territory. For the first twenty minutes the Aggies were advancing the ball on the 20 and 30 yard lines. It was very seldom in this that the ball was being played on Aggie ground.

In the second half Golden found their only ground-gaining play, and they resorted to this line plunging almost entirely. Their next two scores were made on the old style of foot-ball. Our only score came near the last of the second half, when Egbert caught a punt and signaled for a fair catch. Brossard made a beautiful kick from the 40 yard line, thus utilizing our only chance of scoring.

The men on Golden's team were

THOMAS J. EVANS

In the second half of the game Saturday, Mr. Evans, who was playing right guard, met with a serious accident. The entire body from the shoulder down was completely paralyzed. He was conveyed to the Budge and Budge Hospital, where it was found that the sixth vertebra had been dislocated, and it would be necessary to perform an operation. This was done at 9:30 that evening. He rallied and all day Sunday seemed to be recovering. But Monday he was worse, continually sinking, till Tuesday morning at 8:15 the end came. His relatives had been notified and they, with numerous friends, were with him continually during the illness. The body was conveyed to Brigham City Wednesday and will be buried there to-day at eleven o'clock. A special train will carry several hundred students, as well as the Faculty and townspeople to attend the funeral.

all old experienced players, most of them having played their "limit" on Eastern teams. They played hard ball, harder than our men did. When they made a tackle it meant that one of our men was sure to fall. There were always two or three men making each tackle. This led some people on the side lines to criticize them as playing "dirty" ball. It was merely hard foot-ball. Golden's back field was not as strong as ours, but their line was heavier and more experienced. According to calculations made by Mr. Marshall, Golden's net gain on straight foot-ball was 128 yards, against 167 yards made by the Aggies.

It was an ideal day for the game and a very large crowd attended. There was very little wrangling, the officials giving almost perfect satisfaction.

The line up was as follows:

Pres. and Mrs. Widtsoe Entertain Faculty

Last Saturday evening the Library wore the air of a gigantic drawing room. Vases of cut flowers, especially curious Japanese chrysanthemums, stood about on the tables, mounds of potted plants from the conservatores lent brightness here and there. A platform, decorated with the flag and the college colors, had been constructed at the east end of the room, and spacious rockers, couches, and easy chairs were scattered about. The host and hostess had invited Miss Maud May Babcock, of the U. of U. Faculty, to read to the guests. Her selection, Booth Tarkington's stirring little episode, "Monsieur Beaucaire," and the audience were highly pleased with her dramatic rendition. Music was furnished by Mr. Alfred Stratford, the Misses Hart, and Miss Edna Montrose. Later, refreshments were served under the supervision of the Domestic Science girls.

This was the first opportunity for all the faculty members and their wives to meet and become acquainted. Students may not realize that the faculty are kept busy to such an extent that they scarcely have time to meet or talk to new members. An occasion like this is, therefore, doubly welcome.

"Ze elite" basketball players are again at it. This aggregation is composed of faculty members and a few students.

THE MASS MEETING

The mass meeting of the A. C. Faculty and students, and of townspeople Friday night at the Opera House, probably eclipses, for real demonstration of College spirit any similar gathering in the history of the institution and of Logan. The old play house was crowded with A. C. sympathizers from the orchestra seats to the topmost round of Peanut Gallery. The classes were represented too, particularly the Sophs., who sat down in the Pit wearing their new white hats with the old rose hatbands. The Sorosis, Blue T's and B. K. O. girls were out in force, and succeeded, at intervals between yells, songs or speeches, in making themselves heard.

But to begin at the beginning. At 6:30 P. M. the students met at the Court House Corner and gave vent to a few thundering cheers, then, headed by the band, formed in line and marched to the Opera House. After cheering and singing here for a while they marched along Main Street to the First National Bank, turned and came back to the Opera House. It did not take long to fill all the available seats. The team, band, and Student Body Officials with other dignitaries, found room on the stage. The following program, interspersed with cheers, was carried out:

"America," led by Winsor.

Dr. Ball gave one of his characteristic rousing speeches, in which he paid glowing tribute to the integrity of our team and the individual worth of the men. He also mentioned the ability of the "Flower of Colo."

Singing, "Glory, Glory, A. C."

Attorney F. K. Nebeker "came through" with an excellent talk on College athletics, in which he referred to the better possibilities the athlete has in the "game of life" because of his physical training.

Singing "Maryland."

Coach Walker then amused the audience for a few moments,

The Night School.

You have heard the statement, "All the World Loves a Booster," etc. There is an opportunity now for every student to BOOST. From Nov. 4, to Dec. 19, twice a week, regular courses will be given in Domestic Science, Mechanic Arts and Commerce. The primary object of these courses is to give those people who must toil during the day, a chance to improve themselves. The success of the idea depends on the way it is put before the people. For this reason it is necessary that every student acquaint himself with the facts and conditions, then make a systematic "boost" for the night school. Tell your land ladies, cooks, dishwashers, chambermaids, coal-heavers, janitors, etc., what a golden opportunity lies before them.

If this is done, surely nothing but success awaits those members of the faculty who are willing to climb the hill evenings and conduct classes in the various lines.

Following is a synopsis of work to be given:

Domestic Science; Practical and advanced courses in cooking. These classes will meet Monday and Tuesday evenings. A lecture course covering every phase of home life will be given.

Mechanic Arts: Individual instruction in Carpentry and Forging. These will be so arranged that students can continue the work in the winter course after the holidays.

Commerce: Bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic, business correspondence, and a special course in shorthand dictation will be given for advanced students, who wish to increase their speed.

Football

The game with the U. of U. to be played here Nov. 3rd, has been postponed. It hasn't been definitely decided yet whether the football season will be continued or not. According to the schedule there are still three games to be played: The U. of U. game, Saint Vincents in Los Angeles, Nov. 14, and the Montana School of Mines here Nov. 26.

It was found impossible to collect and arrange properly the material for a special obituary number in memory of "Tom" Evans this week. Next week such an issue will be published.

The Mass Meeting

stating that his knees shook so much he couldn't talk, etc. But after some time he spoke of the strength and determination of the team; of the possibilities of winning, and promised the people a good game.

Singing, "Walker on the Campus."

Captain Brossard was the "erator of the day." "Ed" has certainly missed his calling. He should, by all means, go on the lecture platform. The fluency of his speech, clearness of voice, and rapidity of thought, together with his majestic appearance, especially fit him for stump speaking. He finally concluded, after holding the audience spellbound for two hours and twenty-three minutes, by relating the old familiar story of the pessimistic and optimistic frogs, stating that the team would be the optimistic frog on the morrow.

After singing, "Fight for the A. C." every-one went home to dream of better days.

Special mention should be made of the cheering. It was exceptionally good, but that is no wonder, for with such cheer leaders as Sharp and Caine it couldn't be otherwise. The "kids" are certainly there. That way they had of "hopping" out from behind the wings and "come on fellows" or "Get into it now," made everyone cheer. Their spirit is the kind that makes college life worth while.

Much of the success of the meeting is due to the arrangement committee, consisting of Mr. Winsor, Miss Nibley and Miss McKay.
